

OPENBAAR MINISTERIE

DISCLAIMER:

The Netherlands Public Prosecutor's Office can vouch for the authenticity of the published documents. It has been established that they originate from the former Afghan authorities. The Prosecutor's Office can, however, not vouch for the accuracy or the comprehensiveness of the information contained in the documents. The accuracy of this information has not been verified. The documents have been published as they have been found and can therefore contain inaccurate or incomplete information.

The original documents are in Dari. However, for technical reasons, the search-engine only works with the English translation of the original text. This English translation is limited to the identifying information of the victims listed in the documents. Other information contained in the documents has not been translated. When using the search-engine, please bear in mind that there are various ways to transcribe Dari into the Latin script. It is advisable to try out various ways of spelling words or names when using the search-engine.